Homeless housing, substance abuse program. We serve a hot, nutritious lunch 365 days a year, even in the face of terrible weather and ever-increasing demand. With a 35-year history, it remains the largest, oldest Charlotte soup kitchen. We welcome anyone who is in need of a meal, regardless of the person's circumstance, with no questions asked. We also provide showers, laundry, mail, I.D. assistance and other essential services. It's our way of affirming the dignity of each homeless neighbor. A nurse is on site at the Urban Ministry Center every morning. People needing a medical evaluation can line up to receive an appointment beginning at 8:30 AM. SABER (Substance Abuse

Soup Kitchen Education and
- 11:15 a.m. Recovery)
to 12:15 p.m. Information:
every day of Director Marilyn the year Furman brought the model from the University of Alabama at Birmingham, based upon their addiction
research. SABER
combines nine
months of therapy
and life-changing
skills with the
guarantee of free
housing, as long as
the person stays
drug and alcohol-
free. This expectation helps
the program achieve
a 55% success rate
after nine months,
compared with a
national average of 20% for other
substance programs.
In addition, 85%
complete SABER's
three-month
intensive treatment.
And there's another
important
difference: SABER
costs $500 per
person per month,
compared with an average of $2,300
per month for
typical residential
care.
